Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Applicant recites in cl. 1, 2, 4, 7, 8, 10, "substantially" and/or "predetermined location" renders the claim indefinite, since the meets and bounds of the claim cannot be determined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim(s) 1-14 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hirsch (3737192).

Hirsch discloses a combine having a feeder (elevator ref 24) house below a cab (ref 30) for conveying harvest harvested from an implement (header, ref 22) to a threshing/separating rotor for further processing as inherently known for such combine (cl. 1, 3); the cab is located on a front end of the frame (12) forwardly of the body containing such processing devices as rotor, beater etc... inherently known for such combine (10); although a cab can be moved for many reasons (such as reducing height), however a four bar linkage assembly (54, 64, on both sides) capable of raising the cab relative to a frame portion and thus creating a space (as shown in fig 2) sufficient for installation of the rotor or any other parts (cl. 1-2, 4-7, 12-14).

As applied to claim(s) 8-11, in view of the structure disclosed/taught by Hirsch, the method of operating/using the device is inherent since it is the normal and logical manner in which the device is used.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 5/19/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

It is noted that the new amendment renders the claims indefinite, since it is unclear how much space needed to allow installation. However, the prior art appears to accommodate sufficient space for installation.
